4 Keys to Long-Term Health

Small Daily Habits That Prevent 95% of Vet Visits

Use a Bully Stick Holder for Gulpers

If your dog tries to swallow the last 2 inches of a bully stick or collagen chew, clamp it into a safety holder or trade them a high-value treat to take the end away.

Look for the VOHC Seal on the Bag

Not every treat with 'dental' in the name carries the VOHC seal — check the package for the circular VOHC Seal of Acceptance.

Stuff With Wet Food or Broth

Instead of high-calorie peanut butter every time, stuff rubber toys and lick mats with your dog's own canned wet food, rehydrated freeze-dried food, or plain pumpkin and freeze overnight!

Match Chews to Food Trials

If your pet is on a single-protein diet, remember that beef bully sticks and poultry dental chews count as proteins too!

Swallowed a Chew Whole or Broke a Tooth? If your pet ever swallows a large piece of a chew or toy whole, starts retching/vomiting, or has a broken tooth, bleeding gums, or facial swelling, call your veterinarian immediately.

CRITTER CABANA & CASCADE PET SUPPLY • CARE GUIDE

Safe Chews, Puzzle Toys & Dental Care (VOHC Seal)

Matching Chews by Weight & Style • Digestible No-Hide & Collagen Chews • VOHC Seal & Xylitol Warning

The Quick Version: Picking the right chew or dental treat comes down to three questions: how much does your dog weigh, how do they chew (gentle nibbler, steady chewer, or power chewer), and what does the package say? For daily dental care, look for the VOHC (Veterinary Oral Health Council) Seal for plaque or tartar alongside toothbrushing — and if you stuff a puzzle toy with peanut butter from home, always check the jar for xylitol first!

STEP 2 • STOCKED STORE OPTIONS

Two Ways That Work

Pick Option A or Option B Based on Your Home Setup

1. How to Pick the Right Chew for Your Dog's Size & Chew Style

The wrong size chew for a gulper or power chewer is a choking or broken-tooth hazard:

MATCH SIZE BY WEIGHT ON THE PACKAGE (AND SIZE UP FOR STRONG CHEWERS!)

Whether choosing Bully Sticks, Collagen Chews, Rawhide-Free / No-Hide Chews, Yak Cheese Chews, or Recreational Bones, use the weight chart printed on the package — and always supervise and take the chew away when it gets small enough to swallow whole!

RAWHIDE-FREE / NO-HIDE CHEWS VS. RAW RECREATIONAL FREEZER BONES

Want a highly digestible alternative to traditional rawhide? Check our Rawhide-Free & No-Hide Chews and Collagen Chews shelves (verify the package says no-hide/rawhide-free). For frozen raw marrow/knuckle bones, thaw in the fridge only!

2. Bad Breath & Dental Care: What the VOHC Seal Actually Means

The Veterinary Oral Health Council (VOHC) reviews clinical trial data for plaque and tartar control:

VOHC'S OWN RULE: 'THE GOLD STANDARD IS BRUSHING' + DAILY SEALED CHEWS

A chew with the VOHC Seal of Acceptance (for plaque, tartar, or both) is a great daily habit alongside brushing with pet-safe enzymatic toothpaste (never use human toothpaste!). Follow the bag for daily count, weight size, and minimum age.

CAT DENTAL TREATS VS. WHEN A MOUTH NEEDS A VET

For cats, check that the bag is labeled for cats, count out the daily serving, and trim meal calories to match. Broken teeth, bleeding gums, drooling, pawing at the mouth, or refusing food go straight to your vet, not the chew wall!

3. Stuffable Puzzle Toys, Lick Mats & The Xylitol Warning

Interactive puzzle boards, lick mats, and stuffable rubber toys (like Kongs) give thinkers a great mental workout:

SUPERVISED PLAY: START AT LEVEL 1 & COUNT THE FILLING AS FOOD

Puzzle boards and treat dispensers are supervised toys, not solo chew toys. Start at the easiest level, show your dog how it works, count the filling toward daily meal calories, and pick the toy up when empty.

CRITICAL: CHECK EVERY HOME PEANUT BUTTER JAR FOR XYLITOL!

Before stuffing a Kong or lick mat with peanut butter from your pantry, read the ingredient list for xylitol. Xylitol is highly toxic to dogs! If a dog ever eats xylitol, call your vet or ASPCA Animal

4 Golden Safety Rules for Every Chew & Treat:

- Watch the First Chew: Always supervise your dog with any chew and remove small end-pieces before they can be gulped
- 10% Treat Calorie Rule: Treats, chews, and puzzle fillings should stay under ~10% of daily calories (trim meal scoop to match)
- Never Use People Paste: Human toothpaste and sugar-free peanut butter with xylitol are toxic — use pet-specific products
- Keep the Lot Code: Keep treats in their original bag (or snap a photo of the lot code) until finished

Smooth Transition Rule: Follow the gradual mixing chart printed on your new food bag — never switch cold turkey! Keep kibble
